Convention Adopts Minority Report Voting Down State Bonus for War II

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—(P)—Adrian L. Bushman of mander of the Missouri department of the American Legion at the state convention today. John Lodwick of Excelsior Springs withdrew from the contest.

William B. Stone of Kansas City, incumbent, was elected national executive committeeman after Peter S. Miravalle of St. Louis had withdrawn.

Raymond S. Roberts, Farmington, was elected senior vice commander.

Louis B. McGee, Kansas City, was named finance officer; Stanley Ginn, Columbia, judge advocate; William R. Hemphill, Kennett, sergeant-at-arms and Msgr. J. N. V. McKay, Kansas City, chaplain.

Elected vice-commanders were Theodore J. Reiser, Kansas City; Truman Ingle, Fulton; Paul J. Robinson, Hartsville; Kirby Williams, St. Joseph and M. J. Schnabel, St. Joseph.

The convention went on record as urging the Veterans Administration to take over the O'Reilly general hospital at Springfield, which the army plans to close at the end of this month.

The resolution cited the acute post-war shortage of hospital facilities and the relief that use of the Springfield institution would provide in this area.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—(P)—On a plea that a bonus would be inflationary, the Missouri Department of the American Legion today voted down a resolution calling for a state bonus to veterans of World War II.

The convention upset a majority report of the resolutions committee and adopted the minority report of R. H. Brown of Slater, a veteran of World War II.

"If we go on record here as favoring a state bonus," Brown told the delegates, "it will mean that we favor a bonus in all states. Let me remind you that in all the states there are more than 17 million veterans. If you give each, say $500, you would pour more than 8 billion dollars into this inflationary world."

"And remember, these 17 million veterans with their adult dependents will number 34 million. You are not proposing to rob Peter to pay Paul, but to rob Paul to pay Paul."

Look Further Ahead
"Let's look further ahead than our noses. If we are to urge spending of such money, it could better be used for our rural schools."

Brown's talk sobered the convention and when a vote was taken there was only a scattered support for the majority measure and an overwhelming vote for the minority report.

Fiercely critical of the Veterans Administration at the end of 1945, John Stelle, national commander, told the delegates that the "Veterans Administration has worked miracles for the veterans since February 1."

However, he warned, a watchful eye should be kept to avoid entanglement of the veteran's welfare in red tape.

Speaking of the wordy battle that raged for weeks between him and General Omar N. Bradley of Moberly, Mo., chief of the Veterans Administration, Stelle said it had been interpreted mistakenly as a personal quarrel.

Getting Along Fine
"That was not the case," he said. It was and still is the action of an organization pledged to service for the veteran, making certain that a not always grateful government renders that service through the Veterans Administration.

"We're getting along fine now. The American Legion always will have the audacity to go into any matter involving the veteran's relief."

One administration practice he was watching, he said, was the seeming tendency to make all adjudication of veterans' claims in Washington, rather than in the branch offices as had been promised by General Bradley.

Vice-Admiral A. S. Carpenter, director of the Navy Public Relations Bureau, another speaker, stressed that with dictators budding and developing, America had need of the strongest military force in the world.

Two to One for King George

LONDON, Sept. 3.—(P)—King George II of Greece, described by a confident as "a very happy man" today, intends to return to Athens in two or three weeks, a government spokesman said, thus ending his second exile since 1924.

The returns from Sunday's plebiscite on the monarch's return to his throne were still running at better than two to one for King George and dispatches from Paris said Premier Constantine Tsaldaris of Greece, now attending the peace conference, might confer with the king today or tomorrow.

The influential Times, commenting editorially, viewed the results of the plebiscite as a signal for the withdrawal of British guardianship and the assumption by the Greek government of full responsibility for the peace and welfare of the country.

Pacific Cafe Robbed, $1698 In Cash Taken

Night Watchman Tied With Dish Rags, Tea Towels

The Pacific Cafe, 202 West Main street, owned and operated by Roy Kirchhofer, was entered and robbed of $1,698 in cash early Monday morning by two men who gained entrance to the place through a rear door, and tied the night watchman, Brown Hainline, aged 76, of 1804 South Missouri avenue.

Officer George Riley, walking his beat about 3 o'clock Monday morning, noticed a door leading into the kitchen of the cafe from the side near the railroad tracks, open. He entered and found Hainline tied with dish rags and tea towels. After releasing him he learned from him that about the time eastbound Missouri Pacific train No. 20 pulled into the station Hainline heard someone in the kitchen. He went back to investigate and found two men there, who turned out the lights and tied him.

Robbed Safe
Evidently from the kitchen the men went to the main part of the cafe and to the safe back of the bar. They gained entrance to the safe, and left papers, and even some money scattered around on the floor. A check-up late Monday afternoon disclosed $1,698 in cash taken.

Hainline could give very little information about the men, except to say they seemed to be average size men, one had a "quaky voice" and one wore tan shoes.

The loss is insured, Mr. Kirchhofer stated today.

Officer Riley, after releasing Hainline and hearing his story, immediately notified police headquarters and other officers began an investigation, which so far has brought no clues.

Rob St. Louis Restaurant
ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3.—(P)—Four men, one of them masked and armed, robbed a restaurant (Day Bar-B-Q) of $5,000 today after locking a porter in a storage room, police reported.

The porter, 16-year-old Peter White, told authorities the men entered the restaurant shortly after he received an anonymous telephone call inquiring whether anyone else was there. He was alone in the restaurant, which had not opened for business. A safe was broken open.

Trenton Woman Killed
CHILLICOTHE, Mo., Sept. 3.—(P)—Mrs. KATHRYN Cahill, 19, of Trenton was killed Sunday night when her automobile struck a bridge six miles east of here on U. S. highway 36. Her husband Merrill Cahill, 21, suffered a fractured leg and ankle.

Portland, Ore., Sept. 3.—(P)—Gen. Omar N. Bradley, who helped lead the United States to victory on European battlefields, said today the fight will not be ended until veteran rehabilitation promises have been fulfilled.

"We have still to carry to ourselves that victory carries with it a fair chance of success for the men who fought to win this war," the Veterans' Administration chief told delegates to the 25th national convention of the disabled American veterans.

He added that the climactic fight was the army's effort to block his program of reconversion preparedness in 1944. The army felt it would distract industry and workers from the war job. Nelson said he lost this fight.

"To a large extent, the army took control over the economy, and many of the reconversion difficulties which arose later, after Germany and Japan had finally been knocked out, can be traced directly to that fact," he said.

Nelson, now president of the Independent Society of Motion Picture Producers, is blueprinting a network of standby munitions plants at President Truman's request. His book is being published by Harcourt, Brace and Co.

Nelson Warns Nation to Be on Guard

Not Only in War But in Peace Against Military Influence

By Sterling F. Green

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—Donald M. Nelson hoisted a warning today for the nation to be on guard, "not only in war but in peace," against widening military influence.

In his book, "Arsenal of Democracy," to be published this week, the former war production board chairman declares that the army largely "took control" of the civilian economy in 1944, after trying throughout the war to wrest that authority from him.

Henceforth, Nelson wrote, the army will cease to be a neglected step-child in peacetime and will become "one of the most important and influential branches of our government."

"The lesson taught by these recent years of war is clear," he continued: "our whole economic and social system will be in peril if it is controlled by the military men."

Nelson took note of the widely advertised "production crisis" of 1944, declaring that it was spurious and served to "divert attention from the army's miscalculations."

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower today struck back at Donald M. Nelson's assertion that the army "tried to get control of our national economy" and declared: "The army wants no domination over anything but its own affairs. It wants no domination of government—no domination of civil authority."

Eisenhower, in Boston to attend the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, said that he had not seen Nelson's accusations, which were published in a book, "Arsenal of Democracy," written by the former war production board chairman.

Production Was Good
"The record shows," he wrote, "that in not a single instance after the critical period of 1941—did an American fighting man at the front have to go without munitions because of any failure in production."

The army's deliberate attempt to create a contrary impression was one of the most dangerous bits of double talk I ever heard of."

Nelson contended that the heads of the army and navy joined with James F. Byrnes, then war mobilization director, to remove him as WPB chairman in 1943 and replace him with Bernard M. Baruch.

The attempt was thwarted, Nelson said, when he got wind of the plan and promptly dismissed Ferdinand Eberstadt, a WPB vice chairman who favored the army's view and who was to have become Baruch's deputy.

Collaborating in the ouster effort, Nelson wrote, were Secretary of War Stimson, the late Secretary of the Navy Knox, and the then Undersecretaries Robert P. Patterson and James V. Forrestal.

They had drawn a letter naming Baruch as Nelson's successor and planned to ask Mr. Roosevelt to sign it "that very day," Nelson said.

No Comment
There was no immediate comment from any of those Nelson named.

Nelson said that one of the bitterest arguments in his three-year conflict with the army was over the use of his apartment, with Undersecretary Patterson, now secretary of war, arguing that papers should be forbidden comics and Sunday supplements. Nelson contended that it was proper to curtail use of newspaper, but that publishers should be the judge of what to print.

"I fought back, for I felt that if we attempted to dictate the use to which publishers should put paper they were authorized to buy, we would be paying the way for government control of the press in its tightest and most acute form, no matter what name we gave it," the former WPB chief asserted.

He added that the climactic fight was the army's effort to block his program of reconversion preparedness in 1944. The army felt it would distract industry and workers from the war job. Nelson said he lost this fight.

"To a large extent, the army took control over the economy, and many of the reconversion difficulties which arose later, after Germany and Japan had finally been knocked out, can be traced directly to that fact," he said.

Biggest Am. Legion State Convention in History Closes

Recommend Kansas City Schools Open

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 3.—(P)—With nine new polio cases reported here last week and three more since Saturday noon, Dr. Hugh L. Dwyer, city health director, said today he would recommend that schools open next Monday as scheduled.

Dr. Dwyer said he did not consider the number of new cases enough to warrant further delay in opening schools, previously scheduled to start today.

The candidates for Missouri department commander were John Lodwick, Excelsior Springs and Adrian L. Bushman, Clayton. William B. Stone of Kansas City, incumbent, and Peter S. Miravalle, St. Louis, were candidates for national executive committee.

To fill the vacuum caused by rain cancellation of the annual parade yesterday afternoon, drum and bugle corps from St. Charles, Independence and other places toured the downtown area.

One thousand persons filled the arena floor of the municipal auditorium last night for the convention dinner staged by women of the auxiliary.

Commander Stelle and Vice Admiral Carpenter were introduced and spoke informally.

More than 312 persons suffered violent deaths as the nation celebrated its final extended holiday week-end of the summer.

Homebound vacationists and tourists jammed most of the country's highways over the three-day Labor Day holiday and traffic fatalities surpassed the estimate made by the National Safety Council.

At least 306 persons were killed, including 21 in traffic mishaps. The council had estimated 350 persons would die from public accidents over the holiday week-end, including 210 in traffic accidents.

The 306 total compared with 361 violent deaths for the 1945 Labor day holiday.

52 Violent Deaths
In addition to the 21 traffic fatalities, there were 52 violent deaths from miscellaneous causes, while 37 persons drowned.

Only one state—North Dakota—reported no violent deaths. California led the states in violent deaths with 29, including 25 traffic fatalities.

Totals by states, listed as traffic, drownings and miscellaneous causes, included:
Arkansas, 7 0 1; Colorado, 1 0 0; Iowa, 6 0 2; Kansas, 2 0 0; Missouri, 2 1 1; Oklahoma, 10 1 0.

New York had 24 deaths, 19 resulting from traffic mishaps; Ohio 21, Pennsylvania 18, Michigan 16 and Illinois 15.

Must Struggle Through U. N. To End Wars

Task Is Not Easy Eisenhower Tells V. F. W.

BOSTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—General Dwight D. Eisenhower asserted today the United States must struggle patiently for the elimination of war through the United Nations even though at times "patience wears thin."

Against a background of unmistakable uneasiness among delegates at the Veterans of Foreign Wars' national encampment over Washington's verbal bouts with Russia and Yugoslavia, the army chief of staff said in a prepared address:

"The task is not easy. It becomes especially difficult when we feel forced to wonder whether every friendly gesture of our own, every well-intended proposal, is being twisted by another into a sinister design."

Must Be Determined
"When we believe that courtesy is met with rudeness, generosity with arrogance, patience wears thin. Yet our determination in this particular effort must be inexhaustible, because on its successful outcome depends the whole future of civilization, ours included."

"Moreover, it is only through patient study and exploration that we can discover the basic reasons why any other should seemingly obstruct progress toward a goal that holds out such a promise to mankind."

Eisenhower said: "If our nation is to be a successful leader of the world toward peace, it must exercise, in full measure, all the qualities of leadership."

"We must show firmness in the right," he said, "uncompromising support of justice and freedom, respect for all, and patience and determination in winning over any that through fear, hope for revenge, or any selfish purpose, are blinded to their own nation, as well as the world's best interest."

Every Detail Important
The American army chief mentioned no foreign nations directly.

After Japan's surrender, Eisenhower said, we appraised conditions with an "almost dangerous optimism" as an "over-hysterical" public demand was raised for complete demobilization.

Even now, he added, "simultaneously with the defeat of some of our hopes for a shrinking task, we are making still further cuts in our defense activity."

"Every detail of this situation," he said, "is important to you and to future peace."

Jeep and Car In Collision

Pvt. J. W. Schwab, Sgt. George R. Bain and Pvt. M. A. Matsuk, all of the Sedalia Army Air Field, received minor injuries at 9:55 o'clock Monday morning when the jeep in which they were riding collided with a Chevrolet in which Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Field, son, Billy, and daughter Jeannie, 2105 East Thirty-fourth street, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Field of Kansas City, and Mrs. Lois Field of Kansas City, were riding. All of the occupants of the Chevrolet suffered from shock, cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred as the jeep, which was driven by Pvt. Schwab, going north, turned right from a by-road onto the farm-to-market road, Highway D, east of Knob Noster, and was struck by the Chevrolet, which was headed south. The jeep hit the left front fender of the Chevrolet, stripping it down the side and it turned over at a distance of several feet after the collision. The left front wheel of the jeep was torn off.

The Fields were on their way to spend the day in Green Ridge. Lieut. Chester Oliver of the highway patrol was called to the scene of the accident.

Telephone Conference With Byrnes

Truman Learns Of Events at Paris Conference

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—President Truman started his first day back from vacation today with a 9:30 a. m. trans-Atlantic telephone conference with Secretary of State Byrnes in Paris.

White House secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters Byrnes gave the president his usual periodic fill-in on events at the Paris peace conference.

It was the first conversation Mr. Truman had had with Byrnes since Aug. 23, when he talked to him from Bermuda.

Ross said the president got a good start on accumulated work last night by staying at his desk until 11 p. m. Except to receive a few government officials, including Under Secretary of State William L. Clayton, the president made no outside engagements today so he could catch up on his paper work.

Had Not Seen Letter
Ross, in response to a question, said he doubted whether the chief executive has seen a letter sent to him during his absence by Gov. Ellis Arnall of Georgia concerning investigation of the Ku Klux Klan in that state. The letter was referred to the justice department for reply.

The president is not expected to hold a news conference until Thursday, when reporters probably will be received at 10:30 a. m.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—Rested and refreshed by his vacation President Truman tackled anew today the troublesome task of assembling this country's five-member atomic energy commission.

His difficulty in getting the "right five" to take over the domestic control assignment was attributed by close presidential associates to differing views among prospective nominees.

Wants Team Work
One highly placed White House official told a reporter privately that Mr. Truman is determined to pick men "who will work together as a team."

This problem was among those Mr. Truman discussed with members of the White House inner circle aboard the presidential yacht Williamsburg yesterday on the final leg of his voyage back from Bermuda.

Among those who have been mentioned as possible choices for the commission are former ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy, Undersecretary of the Treasury O. Max Gardner, Dr. Irving Langmuir and TVA chairman David E. Lilienthal.

SARATOGA, Wyo., Sept. 3.—(P)—Clyde Adams, stunt flyer from Scottsbluff, Neb., and a native of Neosho, Mo., crashed to his death in a P-39 before a Labor day Saratoga air show audience of 6,000.

Adams had just completed a power dive and started to pull out at 600 feet when the plane went out of control and fell to the ground.

Adams' body was sent by air to Scottsbluff for funeral services today.

Stamp 51 is Good for Sugar
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—Housewives had another sugar ration stamp available today, spare stamp 51 which became valid on Sunday and will be good for five pounds of sugar through Dec. 31.

GPA announced also that stamp 49, also in ration book number 49, had been extended to Sept. 30. It was to have expired last Saturday, but the sugar shortage was so acute in many cities that consumers were unable to cash it.

Agriculture department officials have predicted the possibility of an improvement in sugar rations exclusively.

After the first of the year, depending on Cuban crop prospects. Meanwhile the department has made arrangements for beet sugar, now accumulating in western producing areas, to get preferential freight treatment so that it can be brought to eastern consuming areas.

Housewives now have two stamps valid for home canning purposes. These are spare stamps nine and ten, good for five lbs. of sugar each through Oct. 31.

Yugoslav Statement Expected

State Department Will Tell of Dispute Over Forced Crashes Of Army Planes

By Graham Hovey

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3.—(P)—The State department today promised a "full statement" either tonight or tomorrow on the dispute with Yugoslavia over the forced crashes of two American army transport planes.

A department press officer, who made the announcement, would give no information on what the statement might contain.

It was believed generally in the department, however, that the statement would express American satisfaction over receipt of a new note from Marshal Tito.

Informed officials said that note, delivered Sunday in Belgrade, expressed official regrets over the incidents and contained assurances that the Yugoslav armed forces had been given strict instructions not to open fire henceforth on American planes.

Crashed Last Month
The planes, attacked by Yugoslav fighters, crashed August 9 and 19. Five American lives were lost in the latter crash.

Meanwhile, the Yugoslav embassy confirmed that it had delivered another note to the state department. Friday, protesting again at what it charges were unauthorized flights of American planes over Yugoslav territory.

This note said the Yugoslav government "cannot bear any responsibility" for the crashes. This statement caused speculation among American officials as to whether Tito will pay an indemnity bill not yet presented by this country.

The Sedalia Ramblers defeated the Versailles Merchants Sunday afternoon at Liberty park by the score of 2 to 1. The game went ten innings. This was the deciding game of a three game series.

Lefty Green was on the mound for the Ramblers and pitched a no-hit game for six and one-third innings, when L. Alderman, Versailles shortstop hit a Texas league double into right field which accounted for the lone Versailles tally, after an error was committed. Green struck out eight men and had perfect control. Moore was on the mound for Versailles and pitched a nice game, allowing but seven hits, striking out four men and walking one.

The Ramblers scored their first run in the fourth inning on an error and a double. The winning run came on three singles, a walk and an error. Light drove in the winning run in the tenth, singling with the bases full.

Taylor Got Two Hits
Taylor got two hits out of four trips to the plate for the Ramblers. L. Alderman got two hits out of four trips for the Merchants. C. Daniels, Versailles third baseman and Light, Ramblers 3rd c, turned in nice fielding plays.

Score by innings:

Two Victories Reestablish Cards' Lead

Brooklyn Loses Final Game of Double Header

By Jack Hand
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
National league fans long may remember the 1946 pennant race as the "Battle of the Bullpens" with Manager Eddie Dyer of St. Louis uncovering Al Brazzle as his latest relief ace to match Leo Durocher's crew of firemen.

The lean left-hander's greatest day of the season came yesterday when he received credit for both ends of a double win over Cincinnati, 6-4 and 8-7, although he, too, needed help from the bullpen in the late stages of the second game.

The twin victories re-established the Cards' lead at 2 1/2 games because Brooklyn, after winning the opener from the Phillies, 5-2, ran afoul of Oscar Judd's left arm and dropped the 3-2 finale.

Cooper the Big Noise
Walker Cooper was the big noise for the New York Giants in their eight-run seventh inning that earned an 8-3 edge and an even break with Boston, which had won the opener 6-2. Cooper spoiled Brother Mort's shutout bid in the first tilt with a two-run double. It was the first time he had appeared against his brother since they left St. Louis.

Pittsburgh and Chicago swapped decisions, the Pirates grabbing a 4-1 opener for Rookie Edson Bahr. The veteran Russ Bauers, a former Pirate, earned his first victory of the season on a 7-3 job for the Cubs in the second.

Largest Crowd of Season
New York's largest crowd of the season, 73,551 paid, watched Boston sweep both games from the New York Yankees, 5-2 and 3-1, moving the Sox toward a mathematical flag clinching with a 15 1/2 game lead.

Bobo Newsom thoroughly enjoyed himself on the holiday afternoon by trimming his old Philadelphia mates for a Washington 5-2 win. Hess Flores, one of the better hurlers in the league for the past month, earned his fifth straight victory, 7-1, for an even break.

Hank Greenberg's two-run homer provided the scoring punch for Detroit's 2-1 edge over Chicago in the first half of a double. Frank Papius outpitched Al Benton to square matters, 6-2.

St. Louis thumped Cleveland, 8-2, on an eight-run spurt in the eighth inning of the opener and the teams played 13 innings to a 2-2 deadlock before darkness forced the second game to be called. It will be replayed as part of a doubleheader today.

Carmen Won From Stover

The Missouri Pacific Carmen won over Stover Sunday afternoon on the Coal Chute diamond by a score of 12 to 11 in 12 innings. This was the 8th straight victory for the Carmen.

The game proved to be a thriller from start to finish. The Carmen have a four game series with the Stover club and will go to Stover next Sunday. The third game will be played on the Coal Chute diamond in two weeks.

Barnes and C. Poynter led the hitting attack for the Carmen, each getting four hits out of five times at bat.

Roy Poynter drove in the tying run in the ninth and scored the winning run in the twelfth on a home run.

Foster started on the mound for the Carmen with Smethers doing the receiving but was relieved in the sixth by Slocum with Anderson going behind the plate. Warnski was on the mound for Stover with Rowland catching.

Score by innings:
Stover 031 005 011 000—11
Carmen 003 102 122 001—12

Montrose Defeated Jr. Legion

The Junior American Legion baseball team met defeat Sunday afternoon at the hands of the Montrose team by a score of 5 to 0. The game was played at Montrose before a large crowd.

Crane, a right-hander, was on the Sedalia hitters to three hits, two of them by Dutch Momborg, the other by Jimmie Egbert. So effective was the Montrose hurler that the Sedalia team made only two serious threats. In the third the Juniors filled the bases with no one out and could not score and in the seventh Momborg led off with a triple but could not score. Crane fanned fourteen of the Juniors during the afternoon.

Manager John Thomas used Ducky Eschbacher, Bob Rapp and Billy Hawley on the mound with Barbour and Blankenship doing the catching. Lineup for the Sedalia team was Holst 1b, Tuggle 2b, Thomas ss, Waters 3b, Vilmer and Brown lf, Momborg cf, Falls and Egbert rf, Barbour and Blankenship c, Eschbacher, Rapp and Hawley, p.

Score by innings:
Sedalia 000 000 000—0 3 5
Montrose 210 002 00x—5 9 0

Major League Leaders

New York, Sept. 3.—(P)—Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals and Mickey Vernon of the Washington Senators still led the major leagues in batting according to averages which included Sunday's games, but there were signs of a two-way scrap in the National and a three-man battle in the American during the final month of the season.

Musial slipped off 11 points to .369, holding only a four-point edge over Boston's Johnny Hopp at .365.

Although Vernon still was on top in the American at .339, he was crowded by both Johnny Pesky and Ted Williams of the pennant-bound Boston Red Sox. Pesky had edged into second place with a .338 average to Williams' .335.

Racing Drivers Killed in Six Car Pileup

Tragedy Occurs Before Labor Day Crowd in Atlanta

By Chick Hosh
ATLANTA, Sept. 3.—(P)—Two of the nation's top flight automobile racers were killed yesterday in a six car pile-up as their supercharged speedsters roared into the northwest turn of the one-mile dirt track looping a pond at Atlanta's Lakewood park.

The dead were George Robson of Glendale, Calif., winner of the 500-mile Indianapolis Memorial day classic and George Barringer of Indianapolis.

They died as their wives watched them hit a better-than-85-miles per hour clip in quest of first prize money of $3,700 for the 100-mile event.

In 98th Lap
While a Labor day crowd of nearly 30,000 watched, the ten racers, tightly bunched, were heading into the 98th lap. As they approached the turn, Robson encountered old-timer Billy Devore of Indianapolis idling along at about 20 miles an hour. Devore had a damaged drive shaft toward the center of the track.

Robson swerved from the track and was struck by Barringer. The impact sent Robson's car, a No-Out Hose Clamp Special, hurtling end over end down the track. Robson was thrown clear, but at least two cars passed over his body as they piled up.

The accident plowed up dust obscuring the vision of the on-rushing drivers.

Robson had two children, a 12-year-old boy and a six-year old girl.

Barringer, 42, who died of skull fracture, is survived by his widow.

The Force that Holds a Giant Stalactite Up...

OIL-PLATES Your Engine!

THE tons-heavy stalactite—the giant "icicle" of stone—is held tight to its cavern roof by the tremendous attractive force of molecules pulling up against gravity. Utilizing the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together) Conoco scientists bring to America's motorists the benefits of new and better oils.

By molecular attraction, a special ingredient of Conoco Nth motor oil is bonded so strongly throughout your engine that cylinder walls and other parts are OIL-PLATED! And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:

Why we ask people to take party-line telephones

Bringing telephone service as quickly as possible to thousands of people waiting for it in the Southwest is our Number One job. One way we are doing it is by furnishing party lines to residence customers. This makes it possible for limited amounts of telephone equipment to serve more people.

After everyone who wants service has it, then we can begin the job of providing the kind of service you want when you want it.

IF YOU HAVE PARTY-LINE SERVICE
...you can get the greatest value from it by doing these simple things:

1. When you have several calls to make, allow a little time between them. That gives others on the line time to make or receive calls.
2. If the line is in use when you try to call, please hang up quietly. Wait awhile before trying again.
3. If you have children, teach them how to use the party line properly, too.

Red Cross Corner

The members of the board of directors of the Pettis County chapter will hold their regular meeting at Red Cross headquarters, Wednesday, September 4, at 10 o'clock.

More and more frequently these days, you run into some one who has just acquired a new refrigerator. Willingly, you listen to the exclamations of relief and joy. Similar exclamations were to be heard in the Red Cross office this past week when the new filing cabinet, so badly needed, and so long awaited, finally arrived. Regarded by the executive secretary, the office secretary, and all the staff assistants as an object of great beauty and rarity, the big green chest of drawers will once again make the business of filing part of office routine, and not the physical exercise that it has been for many months. It has taken strong arms and backs to wrench the folders out of the solidly packed drawers, and even stronger arms and backs to push them back in again. Now the drawers roll smoothly out, and the folders come out at a touch. Needless to say, the office staff is pleased beyond words.

On the night of August 26, members of the Red Cross Nurse Aide Corps met at the home of Mrs. J. F. Van Osdel for the consideration of the readjusted status, and to make plans for the coming fall and winter season. Mrs. Van Osdel, the instructor of the first two units of Aides, has been appointed to serve on the Nurse Aide committee, in a liaison capacity. The Aides, put on a reserve status shortly after V-J Day, have now returned to an active status, and eight members have signed up for regular schedules at the Bothwell hospital. During recent months, the services of the corps have been courteously and graciously acknowledged by the Bothwell hospital. Miss Beth DeWar, superintendent of nurses at the hospital, who was a special guest at the meeting, spoke of the valuable service rendered by this Volunteer Corps, and expressed a wish that the hospital might continue to benefit by this service.

ATTENTION PLEASE! We are calling all needwomen of Sedalia and Pettis county. We are calling you to co-operate in the current Red Cross program of making sleepers and mittens as a part of our contribution to Foreign Relief. The little cold babies of Europe are sorely in need of the little warm clothes that are waiting for willing fingers to make them up. Please call Mrs. George Dryden, 4353, and specify the number of these little garments that you will be willing to make. Organizations and individuals may take out one garment, several or many. The quota must be ready for shipment in three months.

PLEASE HELP!

World Needs Leadership Of Women

Margaret Hickey Tells Members of Extension Clubs

COLUMBIA, Mo.—Women themselves are in large measure responsible for woman's inability to reach the top levels of diplomatic and international influence, Miss Margaret A. Hickey, of St. Louis, director of Miss Hickey's Training School for Secretaries, declared here in an address before the annual meeting of the Missouri Council of Home Economics Extension Clubs Association.

"If women are really serious about their national and international responsibilities," Miss Hickey said, "the place to start is in the county seat and their home town. If they expect to do something about politics, they must enter politics."

Must Lack of Unity

Miss Hickey, who is honorary president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, deplored the lack of national and international unity which has characterized the past twelve months. "The words industrial tieups in our history," she continued, "have confronted us in our efforts to supply the world with food, materials and tools for peace. With greed at the wheel and each self-interest group seeking advantage at the expense of others, we are headed on a dangerous road."

Must Overcome Discouragement

"We must overcome the wave of discouragement and frustration which is impeding the efforts of the people in supporting the United Nations. We need a new code of diplomacy—a people's diplomacy to match the people's responsibilities. Modern international relations must be between peoples and not merely between the leaders of government. The whole people must take a passionate interest in this complex business of getting along with the nations of the world."

"One of the greatest dangers that the United Nations face is the belief that this organization can save the world of itself, that its mere structure will prevent another world war and that we as individuals need not do any work to make it work."

Women Should Lead

"The world needs the leadership of women, but women, in order to provide it, must enlarge their interests in our nation's government from county seat to international council table. Women sigh over the fact that the peace of the world is being lost by men. They observe with a feeling of discouragement that women were mere spectators at the Security Council meeting and the sessions of the United Nations Commission on Atomic Energy. But women must do more than sigh; they must act. They must set out today to deserve and to win positions of leadership in the nation and in the council of nations."

Romance Ends Violently

LAS VEGAS, Nev., Sept. 3.—(P)—A wartime romance born in England died violently in Labor day sun play in this resort town which calls itself the west's last frontier.

The principals were dark-haired, dark-eyed Bridget Waters, 26 and pretty; baldish Frank Waters, 38, her estranged husband, whom she accused in a bitter separation trial last July of deserting her and their wide-eyed chubby 16-months old son, Frank, Jr.

Waters was killed with a single shot through the heart from a .22 calibre pistol yesterday, Police Chief George Thompson reported, as Waters sat with the baby on the floor of the home where his Irish wife was employed as a nurse. The tot's knee was creased by the bullet.

Mrs. Waters, tearful and at times hysterical, was booked by police for investigation of murder. Thompson quoted her as saying:

"We were in the bedroom and were discussing our future relations while I fed and dressed the baby. Frank insisted that I give him a divorce, and I said I wouldn't unless his future plans included myself and the baby. He said he didn't care, so I told him that I was going to leave for England Thursday with Frank, Jr."

Want a New Car? Go Abroad and You'll Get It

American-made, 1946 model cars are lined up on a Weehawken, N. J., pier, awaiting shipment to Newfoundland. Recent survey revealed that American manufacturers are sending thousands of their new autos to foreign markets, shipping 9000 in June alone. Recently Nash production was halted at Milwaukee and Kenosha by what company officials said was "unprecedented refusal of employees to work on cars for export."

Would Limit Italian Army

PARIS, Sept. 3.—(P)—"Big Four" recommendations that the Italian army, navy and air force be limited to 297,500 men—only a fraction of war-time strength—were approved unanimously today by the military commission of the 21-nation peace conference.

Under the approved provisions, Italy is permitted to have an army of 250,000 (including 65,000 carabinieri), a navy of 22,500 and an air force of 25,000.

She is barred from possession of aircraft carriers and her land air force is restricted to 200 fighter and reconnaissance planes, with an additional 150 transport and training planes.

The military commission accepted the foreign ministers' draft setting the strength of the carabinieri (state police) at 65,000, after Yugoslavians withdrew an amendment to limit the force to 30,000.

Theatrical Producer Dies
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(P)—William Harris, 62, one of Broadway's most successful theatrical producers, and member of a famous theatrical family, died yesterday.

Stocks Fall Off
NEW YORK, Sept. 3.—(P)—Stocks fell out of the window in today's post-holiday market on one of the sharpest declines of the past several years with numerous leaders dropping as much as 4 points to lows since last fall or longer.

Prices slightly downward at the start really began to retreat before midday when the ticker tape for an interval was behind actual floor transaction. Volume then tapered but a fresh rally began to build for almost 40 minutes. Extreme losses were reduced in many cases at the close. Transfers of 2,000,000 shares were among the largest of 1946 to date.

Prominent on the slump were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, General Motors, Santa Fe, Southern Pacific, Southern Railway, Baltimore & Ohio, Chesapeake & Ohio, Eastman Kodak, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Johns-Manville, Goodrich, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, American Telephone, North American Electric Power & Light, Anaconda, Kennecott, American Can, Westinghouse, General Electric, Standard Oil (NJ) and Texas Co.

Bonds backed away.

Oats Steady
CHICAGO, Sept. 3.—(P)—Oats carried a steady tone in today's trading, and without the influence of the sell off in stock prices, the commission houses bought the feed grain steadily.

Wheat was nervous in a thin market and moved quickly in small sales. Corn was weak, the deferred contract showing the greatest loss, reflecting in the spot market, where cash corn was much lower.

At the close wheat was unchanged to 1/2 cent lower than yesterday's finish. January 1947, 1.35 1/2; Oats were 1/2 to 3/4 higher, September 78-78 1/2. Barley was unchanged to 2 cents higher. November 31-35.

BOIL MISERY RELIEVED by the MOIST HEAT of ANTIPHLOGISTINE

The moist heat of an ANTIPHLOGISTINE poultice does two important things: One—helps ease the pain and soothes the inflamed tissues. Two—helps soften the skin. ANTIPHLOGISTINE should be applied as a poultice just hot enough to be comfortable. Then feel its moist heat go right to work on that boil—bringing soothing relief and comfort. Does good, feels good.

The moist heat of an ANTIPHLOGISTINE poultice also relieves pain and reduces swelling due to a simple sprain or bruise. It relieves cough, tightness of chest, chest soreness due to chest cold, bronchial irritation and simple sore throat. Get ANTIPHLOGISTINE (Auntie Flo) now.

Farmers Prepare To Fill Silos

Farmers of the state are busy preparing their silos and ensiling equipment for the crops they will handle in the weeks ahead, states M. M. Jones of the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

One of the first steps is to check the silo for cracks or openings which might cause loss of feed through decay. These need to be repaired and the doors should be checked to make sure they will fit tightly. If they are loose, heavy paper needs to be bought and placed near at hand to be put around the doors at filling time. Wood silos may need to have their tension wires tightened, and they may require a coat of creosote or paint.

A thorough check of the ensilage cutter is needed now to avoid delays later. The knives ought to be sharpened and set close. If a different tractor is being used this year to provide the power, the pulleys probably require adjusting. The pipe on the cutter needs to be set vertical when filling starts.

There is some danger from carbon monoxide, if the silo is partly filled, then left overnight or for a few days with several of the doors above the silage level closed. Starting the ensilage blower a few minutes before anyone enters the silo will eliminate the danger.

Tamping is not as necessary as once thought. One person walking about the silage and adjusting the flow of silage provides plenty of pressure. Natural settling takes care of most of the need with permanent silos. Unless the crops to be put into the silo is very dry, no moisture needs to be added.

If no permanent silo exists on the farm, and silage is needed, temporary silos, such as the trench and snow fence can be built at relatively low cost.

Extension Circular 509 "Temporary Silos", which describes the building of the various types of silos, may be obtained at the County Extension office.

To Demonstrate Slip Covers

Miss Madonna Fitzgerald, Home Management Specialist of the Missouri College of Agriculture, Columbia, will demonstrate the making of slip covers at a meeting to be held Friday, Sept. 6—2 p. m. at the Public Library. The meeting is open to anyone interested in learning how to make slip covers, however leaders from the various clubs will be trained so that they may conduct the same type of meeting in their own communities.

Slip covers now occupy a permanent place in home furnishing. They have advanced from the old-fashioned, lose, baglike protectors against dust in the summertime to trimly fitted, smartly tailored coverings suitable for year-around use. Materials, too, keep pace with the streamlined design of the covers. Controlled shrinkage, colors more permanent to light and washing, finishes that render the fabric crease resisting and water repellent, are outstanding improvements in cotton fabrics particularly. They have added to these various service qualities, there is an ever increasing variety of artistic designs and texture—all of which makes it possible to find ideal slip-cover materials at moderate prices.

Miss Fitzgerald will discuss such subjects as suitable materials for slip covers, place of texture, color and design; the types of seams and finishes commonly used; and how pleasing color effects may be achieved through the use of slip covers. She will measure a chair, make a paper and musline

Entertained Economics Club

The Home and Community committee of the Pettis County Farm Bureau composed of Mrs. Albert Runge, chairman, Mrs. Paul Read, Mrs. Walter Rissler, Mrs. James DeJarnett, Mrs. Bruce Claycomb, Miss Elizabeth Scott and Miss Alice Alexander entertained representatives of the Home Economics Extension clubs Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church.

A moving picture in technicolor "The Living Rock" was shown to the group. The sitting for the story was the once rich plantations of the southland. Cotton was King—but through mining of the soil by repeated use of the one crop without any addition of lime manure and fertilizer, the plantation became a bleak and deserted place. The poor soil produced not only poor livestock but poor human beings as well. The picture had a happy ending however when the family followed the practices recommended by the college of Agriculture and the soil once again had the needed minerals to produce good crops which changed the entire picture of the home from one of despair to one of pleasure.

Games and refreshments completed the entertainment. The games chosen were such that they helped those present to become acquainted with members of their neighbor clubs—for various sections of the county were represented. Those present: Mesdames George Fitcher, Earl Dirck, Howard Dirck, O. F. Gorrell, Roy Petty, Guy Mahin, Lewis Hammond, Jr., Clarence Dow, Bruce Claycomb, A. C. Dorrance, Lee Dow, L. V. Igo, Clay Leftwich, Tom Harvey, Charles Snow, George Brunkhorst, Ralph Mosby, George Ellis, Israel Rhoads, Albert Anderson, Jr., C. H. Griffin, Garfield Armstrong, Bedford Burke, C. Rodenbach, William McCune, O. R. Demard, Wiley R. Boothe, Mary DeJarnett, P. S. Read, Albert Runge, Walter Rissler, Will Lamb, Hubert Finley, Walter May, C. W. Chappell, C. E. Wells, Roy Anderson, Albert Anderson, Lewis Hammond, Martha Hammond, Cora Lanston, Misses Reba Gum, County Health nurse, Elizabeth Scott, and Miss Alice Alexander, Home Demonstration Agent.

Thirty-eight rural schools were represented at the DDT spraying demonstrations held at Maple Grove, Dresden, and Maplewood through the cooperation of the Public Health committee of the Pettis County Medical Society, the County Extension office, the County Superintendent of schools and the Public Health Nursing service.

Miss Reba Gum, Public Health nurse, spoke of the importance of insect control. As the majority of the schools are not screened against flies, some means of protection is felt necessary, especially this year with the prevalence of poliomyelitis.

The purpose of the demonstrations given by J. U. Morris, County Agent and Alice Alexander, Home Demonstration Agent was to acquaint the school authorities and

To Demonstrate Slip Covers

Miss Madonna Fitzgerald, Home Management Specialist of the Missouri College of Agriculture, Columbia, will demonstrate the making of slip covers at a meeting to be held Friday, Sept. 6—2 p. m. at the Public Library. The meeting is open to anyone interested in learning how to make slip covers, however leaders from the various clubs will be trained so that they may conduct the same type of meeting in their own communities.

Slip covers now occupy a permanent place in home furnishing. They have advanced from the old-fashioned, lose, baglike protectors against dust in the summertime to trimly fitted, smartly tailored coverings suitable for year-around use. Materials, too, keep pace with the streamlined design of the covers. Controlled shrinkage, colors more permanent to light and washing, finishes that render the fabric crease resisting and water repellent, are outstanding improvements in cotton fabrics particularly. They have added to these various service qualities, there is an ever increasing variety of artistic designs and texture—all of which makes it possible to find ideal slip-cover materials at moderate prices.

Entertained Economics Club

The Home and Community committee of the Pettis County Farm Bureau composed of Mrs. Albert Runge, chairman, Mrs. Paul Read, Mrs. Walter Rissler, Mrs. James DeJarnett, Mrs. Bruce Claycomb, Miss Elizabeth Scott and Miss Alice Alexander entertained representatives of the Home Economics Extension clubs Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church.

A moving picture in technicolor "The Living Rock" was shown to the group. The sitting for the story was the once rich plantations of the southland. Cotton was King—but through mining of the soil by repeated use of the one crop without any addition of lime manure and fertilizer, the plantation became a bleak and deserted place. The poor soil produced not only poor livestock but poor human beings as well. The picture had a happy ending however when the family followed the practices recommended by the college of Agriculture and the soil once again had the needed minerals to produce good crops which changed the entire picture of the home from one of despair to one of pleasure.</

The Daily Washington Merry-go-Round

(Ed. Note—While Drew Pearson is on a brief vacation, his column will be written by several distinguished guest columnists—today's by Carroll Reece, chairman of the Republican national committee.)

By Carroll Reece

WASHINGTON, Sept. 2.—The American people are tired of being pushed around by their public servants. They are tired of being deceived by those in whom they have reposed public trust. They are tired of being offered political bribes of their own money. They are tired of living in a perpetual state of phony emergency. They are tired of seeing the value of their hard-earned dollars decreased by a spending administration which for fourteen years (most of them peacetime years) has spent more than it had to spend.

Americans are tired of paying unnecessarily high taxes to support a profligate and stupid bureaucracy operating on the theory so elegantly phrased by one of its chief exponents that the people are "too damned dumb" to understand what their bureaucratic chaperones were doing. They are tired of seeing the policies of the government of the United States dictated by a group of counterfeit "Liberals" who are actually exponents of an alien and radical totalitarian philosophy of government and some of whom have been exceedingly dilatory, to say the least, about taking out naturalization papers.

The foregoing observations are based upon information acquired by and thrust upon today's guest conductor of this column during a series of trips which have taken him into almost every corner of the United States during the past four months. A concise summary of these observations is that the people of the United States have determined to get the present government of the United States out of their collective hair.

On the basis of that appraisal of the determined objective of the people, here, in the language of the normal proprietor of this column, is a "prediction of things to come."

Republicans Constructive

The American people, for two principal reasons, will elect a Republican congress in November.

1. Because they have come to realize that the Republican party offers a constructive and practical program for getting the government out of the people's hair and Republican members of congress by their recorded votes as well as their public declarations during the past two years have proved that this program will be written into law as soon as a Republican majority takes control of congress.

2. Because the present Democratic administration (which is anything but Democratic) has proved its utter inability or unwillingness to maintain an orderly, prosperous and free economy at home or a respected position of the United States abroad.

The Republican program for the restoration of an American system of representative Republican government in the United States has been described adequately by public declarations of Republican spokesmen and implemented by Republican votes in congress. All citizens who are sincerely interested in knowing the details of that program have had ample opportunity to learn them—and they will have additional opportunities as the campaign progresses toward a decision in November.

Looking Backward

Forty Years Ago

In an elaborate celebration of Labor Day in Sedalia Monday under the auspices of the Federation of Labor a large crowd attended following a monster parade. The Machinists' union took first award as making the best general appearance in the line of march, the Sheetmetal workers second and the Barbers third. Between three and four thousand persons heard the addresses delivered at the park.

The handicap golf tournament yesterday for a silver loving cup was won by W. M. Johns, with Dr. J. S. Rogers second and W. H. Reynolds third.

The city council in a meeting Monday night took up numerous street, park and other matters, and among other matters brought up

DEVIL'S LAUGHTER

By Alice M. Laverick Copyright, 1946, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: They brought Miss Charlotte into the hospital after the fire. Unconscious and suffering from shock, she looked just as beautiful as she had that eventful summer 10 years before when Cousin Ellen, the Fitzgeralds' housekeeper, asked my mother to let me come to Innisfail to help her out. I, 17-year-old Cecelia Hart, was never to forget that summer nor the Fitzgeralds. I had worshiped Miss Charlotte then and looking at her still face on the hospital pillow now, I found it hard to believe that her mind had been a blank for the 10 long years between.

Democracy Disintegrating

That the present Democratic administration is an absciss on the body politic is proved by many evidences of its disintegration and decay.

There is the case of Representative May of Kentucky, Democratic chairman of the powerful house committee on military affairs, involving indications of the political influence in the award of war contracts and misuse of public funds—plus evidence that ammunition supplied to American forces abroad was defective and caused needless sacrifices of American lives during the Battle of the Bulge.

There is the case of Democrat Representative Curley of Massachusetts elected mayor of Boston by the political machine of which he is the boss.

There are the formal and public assertions of Comptroller General Warren, a lifelong Democrat and former Democrat member of the house, to the effect that billions of dollars of public funds were wasted during the war because of the administration's slipshod methods of handling war contracts.

People Robbed

And finally there is the public announcement of the Pendergast-PAC machine alliance formed under the public sponsorship of President Truman himself to "bure" Democrat Representative Roger Slaughter of Missouri who had refused to follow the Truman-PAC party line in congress.

By lending the prestige of his high office to the Pendergast-PAC alliance against Mr. Slaughter, Mr. Truman confirmed assertions repeatedly made by Republican spokesmen to the effect that the choice presented to the voters this year is a Republican congress on the one hand and a congress controlled by the PAC on the other. For that clarification of the issue the nation owes thanks to Mr. Truman.

Meanwhile it may be taken for granted that the evidences of inefficiency, extravagance and possible corruption revealed so far in the cases listed constitute only a peephole view of what will be exposed to the pitiless light of day when Republicans take control of the investigating committees of congress.

The people are entitled to know how much, and they should know before the statute of limitations expires in many more cases. They will find out soon after the new Republican congress assembles in January, 1947.

Uncle Ben and Aunt Jane are coming back for an autumn vacation.

They didn't need much coaxing... just one letter, reminding them of the glorious Missouri autumns they've known.

Mild, calm days... just the right crispness in the night air... the piquant smell of hickory smoke drifting up from homey chimneys... the familiar aroma at sorghum makin' time... and cool, rippling waters... with fish inclined to live dangerously.

Yes, the thoughts of all those delights are bringing them back. There must be a lot of Uncle Bens and Aunt Janes, longing for Missouri, planning belated vacations. A letter from you will open their eyes to a wondrous Missouri in the fall.

Let us follow up your letter with a full color folder and a highway map of Missouri. Send names and addresses of out-of-state friends to:

altogether too young to be working anyway. I won't have it. I thought Ellen's cousin was an older girl. You're thin and your color isn't good."

I despised myself for caring what she said about my coloring. But I was truly hurt.

"What's become of Ivy?" she was saying fretfully. "Oh, yes I remember, she got married, fool that she was. Some stupid man with a bad liver and no job at all. She'll be back, she'll be back. So you'll stay till she comes but, mind you, not a minute longer!"

She paused breathing heavily and the nurse, looking worried, implored her not to talk add to drink the milk, rapidly growing cold in the glass.

"Let me alone, will you? And take that glass away!" The sick woman's voice rose to a shriek and then she lay back, panting, with her eyes closed.

I was horrified, fearing that I had been the means of bringing on an attack of some kind. It was high time I was leaving. As a matter of fact, I shouldn't have gone into the room at all.

But as I turned to go, she called me back, her moment of weakness seemingly over. I must speak to Ellen, she said, about giving me plenty to eat and letting me get out in the sunshine every day. Then she closed her eyes again and even before I reached the door, she proceeded to discuss me with the nurse.

"Plain, isn't she?" she said, with that in her voice that allowed for no differing opinion. Plain she said I was. So I was plain. I closed the door hastily, my cheeks burning.

"You're no beauty yourself," I muttered grimly and felt somewhat better.

To Be Continued)

American cigarettes are a favorite currency these days in Europe. A pack will get you anywhere from 20 dinars (40 cents) in Yugoslavia to 40 schillings ($4.00) in Austria.

She put the glass of hot milk on a tray and told me to go up the front stairs with it.

"Her room's the first one you come to at the top of the stairs," she said. "Go easy now and do not spill that!"

I went up slowly, holding the little tray as rigid as possible and sighing with relief when I reached the top.

It was then that I first saw Charlotte Brent and in the delightful shock of her loveliness, I very nearly did spill the milk.

She was coming along the upper hall on her way downstairs and she stopped to greet me, to smile her charming smile and say, "You're Cecelia, aren't you? I hope you'll like us."

That was all and she continued her way downstairs, but I walked straight past Mr. Fitzgerald's door and traveled the length of the hall, tingling from head to toe at having been spoken to by such an exquisite creature.

I was still partly in a trance when I finally retraced my steps and knocked at the door of the sick room. It was opened by the current nurse, looking decidedly cross. I later learned that her patient had just thrown a hot water bag at her for the third time that day. But at the time I only thought, how dreadful for a poor sick woman to have such a severe-looking nurse.

I glanced timidly in the direction of the huge carved walnut bed. There she lay, the lady of the house, frail and yellow-white, with sunken cheeks and closed eyes set in great dark hollows. I stood silent, looking at her with my heart filled with pity.

I was suddenly aware that her eyes had opened and that they were jet black and piercing and seemed to be glaring at me.

In a husky but authoritative voice, holding more than a hint of brogue, she demanded to know who I was. And my pity changed at once to a feeling that was almost fright.

"It's the girl Ellen brought to help her," said the nurse. "What did she say your name was? Oh, yes, Cecelia, Cecelia Hart, Ellen's cousin, you know. Now please drink this while it's hot, Mrs. Fitzgerald."

The old lady waved the tray away impatiently. "Come here and let me look at you," she ordered, and I went over to the bed, still a bit fearful. From a nest of lace trimmed pillows, she looked me over with her bright dark eyes.

"How old are you?" she asked tersely. "Seventeen," I said, hoping my voice was not really quivering. "You don't look it. And that's rejected a proposal for the levy of a city poll tax. A suggestion that a "runabout" be purchased to be utilized by the police force was referred to the proper committee.

Does Stomach Gas and Bloat Make You Feel Miserable?

If so, here is how you may get blessed relief in freeing your stomach from this nervous distress. It works this way: Everytime food enters the stomach a vital gastric juice must flow normally to break-up certain food particles; else the food may ferment. Sour food, acid indigestion and gas frequently cause a morbid, touchy, fretful, peevish, nervous condition, loss of appetite, underweight, restless sleep, weakness.

To get real relief you must increase the flow of this vital gastric juice. Medical authorities, in independent laboratory tests on human stomachs, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in increasing this flow when it is too little or scanty due to a non-organic stomach disturbance.

This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps build-up non-organic, weak, watery blood in nutritional anemia—so with a good flow of this gastric digestive juice, plus rich red blood you should eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better.

Avoid punishing yourself with over-doses of soda and other alkalis which counteract gas and bloating when what you so dearly need is SSS Tonic to help you digest food for body strength and repair. Don't wait! Join the host of happy people SSS Tonic has helped. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle of SSS Tonic from your drug store today. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Life Incomes at Retirement for General Electric Employees

Over 100,000 men and women already enrolled under new hundred-million-dollar General Electric Pension Program.

On July 10, 1946 General Electric announced an expanded pension program to give every employee at retirement the steady income everyone dreams of—but few ever manage to secure.

For the average employee this will mean a retirement income several times as large as the annuity he could ordinarily buy. Income at retirement, when added to Social Security payments, will amount to about 50% of average pay for the employee who has spent his working years with General Electric.

$100,000,000 to Start Plan

This plan provides a pension for the years already worked, at no cost to employees. For this, the company pays the entire cost, estimated at more than $100,000,000.

Thus every employee with over a year's service has a good start on his pension at retirement—at no cost to him. The longer he has worked, the bigger the sum.

To increase this retirement income as the years go on, employees and the company will jointly contribute to the fund. On the average, about two-thirds of future costs will be paid by the company.

Every Employee Eligible

Pensions are not new at General Electric. Retirement plans were begun as early as

About 90% of eligible G-E men and women have already signed up for Retirement Income

Within eight weeks of the new pension program's announcement, some of General Electric's nearly one hundred plants in about seventy-five communities report the following enrollment:

Bridgeport, Conn.	90.8%
Ontario, Cal.	92.5%
Erie, Pa.	96.8%
Lynn, Mass.	97.0%
Schenectady, N. Y.	95.0%
Pittsfield, Mass.	94.0%
Philadelphia, Pa.	95.6%
New Kensington, Pa.	97.8%
Lowell, Mass.	96.4%
Cleveland, Ohio.	91.1%

1912. Over 40,000 employees now on the payroll are already covered. The new plan brings pensions within reach of 100,000 more. Every employee is eligible the day he completes one full year of service.

General Electric's Objectives

Three objectives of General Electric are worth repeating:

For the public, new and better products at the fairest price that General Electric research and engineering can achieve.

For General Electric men and women, a better place to work—fair wages, steady employment, and "job dividends" for work well done.

For a quarter of a million owners, a fair return on the millions in savings they have invested.

"Job Dividends"

General Electric's "job dividends"—those extras that G-E employees get in addition to wages—now include among other things, pensions at retirement, insurance, vacations with pay, awards for achievement, etc. On such "job dividends" General Electric spent more than $35,000,000 for the year 1945.

This new pension program, from General Electric's point of view, is another way to encourage the capable and efficient men and women who aid in the company's success. With their help, even greater benefits can be produced for all.

For additional details of the plan, those interested may write for the booklet, "General Electric Pension Plan." Address General Electric, Schenectady, N. Y.
